Georgia’s Presidential Preference Primary has been postponed to June 9. Additionally, Georgians are practicing social distancing and self-quarantining, and several jurisdictions in Georgia have instituted shelter-in-place orders to prevent further spread of the COVID-19 virus.

In revising its Delegate Selection Plan for the Democratic National Convention, the Democratic Party of Georgia set out to do the following:

- 1.) Postpone events in Georgia’s Delegate Selection Plan (the “Plan”) due to the postponement of Georgia’s Presidential Preference Primary.
- 2.) Convert all in-person voting to remote voting, providing options for online and telephone registration, credentialing, and voting.
- 3.) Complete objectives (1) and (2) while adhering as closely as possible to the spirit and intent of Georgia’s original, approved Plan.

NOTES

District-Level Voter Credentialing

With the introduction of remote voting comes one major change to the plan: remote credentialing/registration for individuals who want to vote in the District-Level Delegate elections.

Rather than requiring voters to register in person the morning of the District-Level Delegate elections, this revised plan provides for a 4-week registration period, where District-Level voters must a.) submit a Google form or b.) call a designated number to qualify and register to be a District-Level voter.

All qualifications in the original plan for District-Level voters must still be met.

Congressional District Chairs and their designated volunteers will be responsible for using VoteBuilder to qualify all District-Level voters in their Congressional District.
